

© Hans Splinter

Economic Inequality, Business and Capitalism

Professional Development Workshop

How does inequality shape organizations?

Organizations certainly contribute to economic inequality, but how does economic inequality influence organizations and their members?

This interactive PDW will allow participants to work in small groups to reflect on and address key theoretical, empirical, managerial and pedagogical issues related to the interplay between inequality, business and capitalism.

To help familiarize participants with the PDW theme, the session will be prefaced with four research briefings (Bapuji & Neville, Dyck, Griedanus, Cui) linking inequality with management, capitalism, innovation, and entrepreneurship. Whether inequality is at the heart of your research, or is simply a topic you're curious about, you are welcome at this PDW.

Saturday, August 10th, 2013, 12:15 - 2:15pm

Walt Disney World Coronado Springs Resort M,N,P
Sponsored by CMS, SIM, OMT, BPS and IM
Organized by Hari Bapuji and Lukas Neville
Program Session #300

Want to participate?

Simply email us your name, along with a question you have about inequality and business. The questions submitted will contribute to shaping the agenda for our discussions together. Email your questions to hari.bapuji@umanitoba.ca.